MISS ADELAIDE STICKNEY BRIDE OF BRITISH SOLDIER

Massachusetts Girl Weds in London H. D. Livingstone, Who Goes to the Front.

LONDON, May 20.—The marriage took place very quietly, by special license, at Holy Trinity Church, Brompton, on the 14th inst., of Mr. H. D. Livingstone, Deputy Lieutenant, of Belvedere, County Mayo, to Adelaide, only daughter of the late Charles Daniel Stickney and Mrs. Netherland Orr of Taunton, Mass., U. S. A.

The ceremony was performed by Canon R. G. Livingstone, uncle of the bridegroom, and the Rev. A. W. Gough, vicar of the parish, in the presence of a few relatives only, the bridegroom being under immediate orders for the front.

The bride was given away by Major Gen. Sir Charles Parsons.

BLAME FOR WAR PUT BY ITALY AT DOOR OF AUSTRIA

Green Book Issued To-Day Declares Ultimatum to Serbia Violated Treaty.

BROKE THE ALLIANCE.

This Infringement, It Is Said, Gave Italy Full Liberty of Action.

ROME, May 20.—Italy charges Austria with responsibility for starting the world's greatest and most terrible war, in a Green Book explaining why she found it necessary to enter the conflict on the side of the allies.

An official summary of the Green Book was made public to-day just before Parliament convened. It charges that Austria broke faith with Italy when she sent the ultimatum to Serbia that tumbled Europe into war.

Austria's action, it is declared, disturbed the whole Balkan status, to the detriment of Italy and her invasion of Serbia violated the Triple Alliance agreement between Germany, Austria and Italy.

"This infringement of the Triple Alliance agreement convinced Italy that she had the right to resume full liberty of action," said the summary. "She acted on this belief, and on May 4 denounced the Triple Alliance treaty as void."

The Green Book declares that Austria, at the beginning of the negotiations, was reticent and would not even accept the suggestion of Italy that she discuss territorial concessions.

Finally, on March 5, pourparlers commenced under article seven of the Triple Alliance agreement between Italy, Austria and Germany. Germany promised to guarantee the execution of any agreement entered into by Austria and Italy after the conclusion of peace.

Austria first demanded that in return for the concessions she proposed to make Italy guarantee political and economic neutrality and a free hand in the Balkans and in Albania.

"These conditions were at once rejected," said the official summary. On April 8, Baron Sonnino, the Italian Foreign Minister, made these minimum demands:

First—The cession of the entire province of Trent (part of the Austrian Tyrol), according to the frontier of the kingdom of Italy in 1811.

Second—Eastern Friuli, comprising Malborghetto, Pieve, Tolmino, Gradisca, Gorizia, Monfalcone, Cormons, and as far south as Nabrana.

Third—Trieste, Capo D'istria and Pirano (the last two in Istria) to form a new State independent from Austria.

Fourth—The islands of Curzola, Lissa, Lesina, Lagosta, Cazza and Meleda, off the coast of lower Dalmatia, to be ceded to Italy.

Fifth—The abandonment by Austria of her interests in Albania, acknowledging Italian sovereignty over Albania.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

To a vote of 303 to 64 the Italian Government today voted full war powers to the Government.

An Italian Green Book has been issued, giving a review of the negotiations with Austria, which are shown to have been started last December. Italy's demands, which Austria has failed to satisfy, were based on the claim that she was entitled to compensation for Austria's advance into Serbia.

Late dispatches from Berlin say the German press, acting apparently on instructions from the Government, joins in attacks upon the United States. According to these reports, President Wilson's demands will be rejected, but this will be done in such a way as to avoid war.

The Russian fortified line along the River San, running across central Galicia, on which great reliance was placed to check the Austro-German advance, has been definitely broken. Statements of the Teutonic allies that they had crossed the river are confirmed in an official announcement from Petrograd.

Przemysl, which Russia won from Austria after a struggle of several months, is now under attack by Austrian guns. One of the greatest battles of the campaign apparently is impending along the San.

In the North the Russians claim successes in operations against the German forces which invaded the Baltic provinces. It is said the Germans have been expelled from Shavli.

London dispatches say the reorganization of the Cabinet will be thoroughgoing. A large number of resignations is expected, and the Cabinet will be constructed with the sole idea of carrying on the war.

Anton Kuiperle, who claimed American citizenship when placed on trial in London on the charge of having sent military information to enemies of Great Britain, committed suicide last night in prison.

A stream near Ypres, used for drinking water by the British, has been poisoned, according to an official report.

Men up to forty years old and only 5 feet 2 inches tall will now be accepted for the British army.

ASQUITH CONFERS WITH UNIONISTS ON NEW CABINET

Coalition Ministry Not Likely to Be Announced Until June 3.

ROW OVER KITCHENER.

Question of Explosives in Issue—Government Was Facing Downfall.

LONDON, May 20.—Premier Asquith today took up the task of forming the new coalition Cabinet which is to replace the present Liberal Ministry. The Cabinet will not be completed for several days and it is expected formal announcement of its composition will be withheld until just before Parliament reconvenes June 3.

At his official residence in Downing Street the Prime Minister today conferred with Arthur Balfour, who is said to be slated to become First Lord of the Admiralty; Bonar Law, Unionist leader, who is certain of a portfolio; Lord Lansdowne, Sir Edward Grey, David Lloyd George and Home Secretary McKenna.

Later in the day the Prime Minister conferred with Marquis Crewe and Austen Chamberlain.

While the conference was in progress, Lord Stamfordham, private secretary to King George, arrived at Asquith's residence.

The Cabinet crisis, according to the usually well-informed parliamentary correspondent of the Daily News, was precipitated by Lord Kitchener's failure to keep the Ministry informed regarding supplies of ammunition sent to the front.

Hugo supplies of shells had been sent, but the proportion of shrapnel is reported to have been greater than that of high explosives, whereas the army required a preponderance of high explosives.

Opposition leaders who were in possession of these facts, says the Daily News, threatened a debate in the House of Commons to prove their accuracy. Such a debate would have undermined gravely the authority of the Government.

Coupled with the resignation of Lord Fisher, the paper asserts, it probably would have meant the downfall of the Government, which would have been considered inevitable in the midst of the war.

The moment was seized, therefore, by representatives of both sides anxious for a coalition Cabinet, and the Government assented to this solution to prevent a worse crisis.

Lord Fisher, First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, was at his office today, which indicates that the Government has refused to accept his resignation and that the departure of Winston Churchill as First Lord of the Admiralty is inevitable.

It seems more and more likely that Earl Kitchener will leave the Cabinet for active service.

A little while ago the tide of the nation, his popularity has been dimmed by attacks of newspapers which charge that he did not realize early enough the importance of high explosives in this war.

As to the question of high explosives, one of the biggest chemical manufacturers in England to-day said that within a fortnight there could be enough produced for any conceivable purpose, and that it could have been done months ago if the War Office had approached the manufacturers.

Even among the Unionists there is a demand that Lloyd George take over the War Office, with Lord Kitchener as Commander in Chief, controlling the professional side. It is not known whether Kitchener would consider such an arrangement. It is the irony of the present situation that the newspapers which, at the outbreak of the war, called for the impeachment of Asquith because he did not appoint Kitchener to the War Office now are leading the demand for his removal.

FUND IN GERMANY FOR SUBMARINE MEN WHO SANK LUSITANIA.

COPENHAGEN, May 20.—A committee has been formed in Magdeburg, Germany, to collect funds as a gift to the officers and men of the German submarine that sank the Lusitania, according to reports received here to-day.

SHELLING OVER MOUNTAINS.

LONDON, May 20.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph says:

"The Turkish cruiser Goeben, which has recently shown considerable activity along the Narrows in supporting the Turkish troops opposing the Australian and New Zealand forces by firing across the peninsula, was attacked by the Queen Elizabeth from the Gulf of Saros. Owing to the extreme difficulty of hitting the Goeben, the British dreadnaught was unable to fire many shells before the Goeben took flight. An observer in an aeroplane directed the Queen Elizabeth's fire."

PRZEMYSL MUST SOON BE GIVEN UP BY THE RUSSIANS

Mackensen's Army So Close Czar's Troops May Be Cut Off.

PETROGRAD ADMITS IT.

Great German Force Is Now on the Right Bank of San River.

LONDON, May 20.—Przemysl is about to fall before the Austro-German army under Gen. Mackensen. Crushed by successive defeats, the Russians must either abandon the Galician fortress they captured two months ago or risk the danger of being surrounded and captured. Only the arrival of large bodies of Slav reinforcements, reported hurrying westward through Lemberg, can save the city.

This was the opinion of military critics here to-day, following admission by the Russian War Office that the enemy had crossed the San in large force. The only reassuring note was the announcement that "we still retain both banks of the river between Jaroslavl and Przemysl."

Semi-official advices confirm the report that the Austro-German enveloping movement is sweeping forward. Having pierced the Russian line at Sienawa, ten miles north of Jaroslavl, Mackensen's left wing is moving down the right bank of the San to attack Przemysl in the rear. In front of the fortress, the bombardment by Austrian siege howitzers continues.

The fortress of Jaroslavl, twenty miles north of Przemysl, remains in the hands of the Russians, according to best information available here. The Austrians claim that Jaroslavl has been stormed and captured by the Germans is not generally credited. It is believed the Germans hold only the bridgehead on the opposite side of the river.

To offset the admitted defeat in the Jaroslavl district, the Russian War Office to-day announced successes in Southeastern Poland.

"An intense battle continues in the region of Opotow," said the official statement. "We have defeated considerable columns of the enemy, pursuing them beyond Ivanaka."

"Along the entire Galician front fighting continues."

BERLIN, May 20 (via London).—The correspondent of the Lokal-Anzeiger at Austrian field headquarters telegraphs as follows:

"The Austrians have assembled reinforcements behind the River San, and have made preparations for a stand. We must anticipate a big battle in the near future. The Teutonic allies already have gained several strong footholds on the Russian side of the River San, and the ring around Przemysl steadily is growing smaller."

A correspondent at Czernowitz wires that fighting there is continuous, and that shrapnel is being used largely against the German and Austrian positions around this city.

BERLIN, via wireless to Stuyville, L. I., May 20.—General Mackensen's left wing is sweeping rapidly along the right bank of the San toward the Russian lines behind Przemysl.

An official statement from the war office this afternoon said the Russians have made several desperate attacks but have been repulsed. The Austro-Germans have stormed and captured several of the enemy's positions north of Przemysl.

In Northern Poland Russian forces that advanced toward the Niemen were routed with heavy losses, the Germans taking 2,500 prisoners.

TRANSYLVANIA TAKEN BY GOVERNMENT FOR WAR; SALES ARE CANCELLED.

Word was received here to-day by the local office of the Anchor Line that the Transylvania has been requisitioned by the British Government and its sailings have been cancelled for the present. The Transylvania was scheduled to leave Glasgow next Saturday for New York.

SHELL SMASHES KAISER'S CAR AND KILLS CHAUFFEUR

GENEVA, May 20.—The German Emperor and his staff had a narrow escape on Sunday while watching the operations in a village near the River San, in Galicia, according to a despatch from Budapest, which reached here by indirect route.

A heavy shell burst 200 yards away from the Kaiser. It fell among some automobiles, destroying several machines, including the Emperor's car, and killing his chauffeur. The Emperor left his car only fifteen minutes before.

As more Russian shells were falling in the neighborhood, the Kaiser and his staff left hastily in machines which they commandeered.

ANDREWS AND 'PRINCESS' GO TO AID ALLIES

Yale Man and Bride Sailed Saturday to Help Cause She Favors.

Donald Shields Andrews, until lately a Yale senior, and his "Princess" bride, who was Mrs. Alma Vetsera Hayne, have gone to England, a daughter of the gardener at Mrs. Andrews's country home near Pleasantville, N. Y., said to-day.

"Mr. and Mrs. Andrews left last Saturday," the girl said. "They did not say how long they would be gone."

Mrs. Andrews's son, Rudolph, is said to have gone with them. The "Princess," though she claims relationship with the house of Hapsburg, is said to be a lively sympathizer with the allies, and was anxious to be abroad where she and her husband could aid the cause she favors.

TURKS FEAR SENEGALESE TROOPS WILL EAT THEM

That's Why the Green-Painted Sharpshooters Surrender to the French Soldiers.

ANTWERP, May 20.—Lena Edgar Brown, a native of Senegal, Senegal, as follows:

"Senegalese-like tactics are being employed by the French sharpshooters opposing the allied forces on the Gallipoli Peninsula. Recent captures have disclosed the enemy's ingenuity. The sharpshooters painted their hands and faces green, better to conceal their positions amid the foliage and undergrowth."

"An amusing incident of the recent fighting at the Gallipoli Peninsula is related. The Turkish prisoners say that they surrendered to the French, in preference to the black Senegalese. The Turks were terrified by the appearance of the Africans, whose faces are curiously marked from infancy to guard them against evil influences. They thought the Senegalese were cannibals and feared being eaten by them."
